

Enclosure

The following is a list of the countries and territories to be included in our forthcoming edition.

The names of the individual active musicians of each area are of great importance; they may represent composers, performers, singers, administrators and teachers. Recent historical data as well as other descriptive comments will help to provide perspective. We feel no information is too insignificant or unimportant for our consideration.

In those areas of the world where the more cosmopolitan aspects of music exist we will of course describe them, but our policy that no area on earth is too remote or too small for coverage in our book has allowed us such an objective approach that no country will have limited coverage by sole reason of its location or size.
